There are times when you may become dissatisfied with your insurance company for a variety of reasons. For example, you may feel as if you were unfairly denied payment of a claim or your policy was canceled without notice or reason. If you are not able to reach a satisfactory resolution with your insurance company, you may have the option to file a grievance against the company with your state's department of insurance.

We at eMediClaim will help you with the process and guide you with the process to get your complaint addressed by the insurance company.

Kindly fill up the details in the form below for us to better understand your policy details and grievance and we shall contact you on the next steps.
